

PAID INTERNSHIP

LINGUISTIC QUALITY ASSURANCE

POSITION SUMMARY

We're looking for passionate people to join our Linguistic Quality and Innovation Department (LIQUID) for a paid remote internship in the field of translation quality assurance.

Working remotely, you'll be responsible for checking the quality and accuracy of a variety of documents in an even wider variety of languages. If you prove that you've got what it takes, we'd like to keep you on as a freelance QA Specialist for a minimum of 20 hours per week.

WHO ARE WE LOOKING FOR?

This opportunity is aimed at final year students/graduates of philology or proofreading studies. We're especially looking for candidates with the following skills:

- English language skills to business standard (any additional languages would also be an asset)
- A keen eye for detail and the ability to stay focused on the task at hand
- A working knowledge of Microsoft Office and some experience with CAT or QA tools, particularly XTM, Xbench, and Across
- Solid communication and organizational skills
- A basic knowledge familiarity with the fields of proofreading and translation

WHAT WE OFFER

- A paid remote internship followed by a job as a part-time external QA specialist
- Flexible working hours, including evenings and weekends if you prefer
- In-depth training on industry leading CAT/QA tools (XTM, Across, Xbench, Trados Studio) and the chance to learn from an experienced and talented team
- The possibility to grow your skills in a truly international environment

HOW TO APPLY?

If you're interested in joining our team, e-mail your CV to: liquid.jobs@argosmultilingual.com with the phrase LIQUID: Remote Internship in the subject line.
